

Is Your Pet Lost?

Take these 4 steps to have the best chance at bringing your pet home safely

File a lost report with ARL, either in person or over the phone. This lost report is seen by all three ARL locations. The staff will ask you to e-mail or bring in a photo of your pet.

Call the local Animal Control Officer of the town where your pet lives, and of the town that your pet went missing in.

Contact your pet's microchip company, if your pet has one, to notify them that your pet is lost. Be sure to confirm that your contact information is current.

Contact other local rescue agencies.

Other helpful tips:

- Search and post on Craigslist.com, and other online groups that compile lost and found reports.
- Ask neighbors to check their garages and sheds in case your pet was accidentally locked inside.
- Post flyers with photos of your missing pet around your neighborhood. Bring these flyers to local veterinary clinics.
- Remember to never chase a pet that is in "flight mode", as it will only increase their panic. For help, contact ARL Rescue Services at (617) 426-9170, then press "1".
